

Via Cultura is a non-profit non-governmental organization that supports the process of modernization and europeization of cultural sector in Slovakia through organizing cultural events and meetings, publishing independent analyses, creating domestic and international partnerships and disseminating information about culture.

Via Cultura was established in 2007 in Bratislava. Members of the board include Magda Vášáryová Zora Jaurová, Martin Bruncko, Silvia Hroncová and Ľubomíra Slušná.

Via Cultura hosts the Institute for Cultural Policy that provides through workshops, conferences and publications a critical reflection of the past and present tendencies in Slovak culture and comments on the state cultural policy.

Via Cultura maintains and cultivates contacts with important cultural institutions in Europe and with foreign organizations of similar mission and presents Slovak culture in abroad.